NADCHATRAM MEDALIST 1991

DR. LEE HAN LIM, B.Sc. (Hons), M.Sc, DAP&E, Ph.D

Dr Lee Han Lim is Head of the Medical Entomology Unit and WHO Collaborating Centre for Ecology, Taxonomy and Control of Vectors of Malaria, Filariasis and Dengue at the Institute for Medical Research, Kuala Lumpur.

In research, he has concentrated on four aspects of Medical Entomology; biological control of mosquito vectors, insecticide resistance, dengue vectors and forensic entomology. Since 1982 he has consistently published papers in these disciplines and he has now to his credit over 59 publications.

Dr Lee has actively contributed to MSPTM and served the society as a Council Member, Hon. Secretary, Organizing Chairman of an Annual Seminar and Past President.

For all this active pursuit in research Lee Han Lim was awarded the IMR Institute Excellence Service Award for 1989, and IMR Young Scientist Award for 1990. He is also a committee member of SIRIM household insecticide since 1990.

Lee Han Lim is a scientist who has great drive to conduct research, firstly because hard work is in his blood and secondly because he sincerely believes that as a member of a research institute he must fulfill the duties that he has assumed.
