NADCHATRAM MEDALIST 1992

ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR DR. KHAIRUL ANUAR,
B.Sc. (Hons), MPH, Ph.D

Dr Khairul Anuar is an Associate Professor in Medical Parasitology at Universiti Sains Malaysia. He has an impressive teaching career spanning over 18 years in local and foreign institutions, mainly in medical parasitology. He has played a major role in the formulation of the first integrated medical curriculum in the region.

As a parasitologist, Dr Khairul has contributed significantly to the advancement of parasitology in this country. He is very active and loyal member of the MSPTM. He has been a council member several terms. His contribution to the society is best remembered when he was the organizing chairman of the MSPTM annual scientific seminar in 1985.

For the last 15 years he has been working in two important areas of parasitic diseases, filariasis and toxoplasmosis. His research work has dealt with the cellular and humoral immune responses of the host to the two diseases. He has published extensively and out of 66 publications he is the senior author of 53 papers.
