NADCHATRAM MEDALIST 2003

DR. NAZNI WASI AHMAD,
B.Sc. (Hons), DAP&E, MSc, Ph.D

Dr. Nazni Wasi Ahmad is the senior Research Officer at the Division of Medical Entomology, Institute of Medical Research, Kuala Lumpur, at present.

Since she became a member of MSPTM in 1993, she has displayed great interest and enthusiasm for its activities and has played various roles in it. She has held the following position in Council: Hon. Treasurer in 1998/1999 and 1999/2000 and Hon. Secretary in 2003/2004. She also serves in The Editorial Board of the Tropical Biomedicine Journal and continues to be actively involved in the Society's activities in various capacities.

In the scientific arena her interest in the house fly and mosquito control has resulted in her publishing 35 papers in international and local journals. She has made 58 presentations at various seminars and conferences in both local and international arena. She has unselfishly disseminated her knowledge on house fly and mosquito control to the Vector Control Unit personnel from Malaysia and other neighboring countries.

The hallmark of Nazni is the enthusiasm she displays in whatsoever she engages herself into. For her outstanding contributions towards science and to society, she was awarded the National Young Scientific Award in 1999 by the Ministry of Science, Technology and Environment and Excellence Service Award in 2000 by the Institute for Medical Research. She has also received several Public Service Innovation Awards by MAMPU.
